This is an Editors Pick for all new Mums out there. Although I'm not a Mum myself I was told about this by a celebrity mum who swears it has changed her life! So... I'm passing on the secret. Trolleychum is an Irish family run business, owned by Riona and Vincent Myers. It's a simple and practical solution that will make everyday life easier and most importantly, safer and more comfortable for your little one! It is a shopping trolley seat cushion, suitable for babies and toddlers, which are machine washable, wonderfully colourful, fun, have designer edge AND keep your precious one away from grime and gunge from the horrors of a germy shopping trolley. They're genius! It is for 3 years approx and under and it keep your baby warm aswell as creating a lively play-zone for him/her to enjoy. The cushion has toy loops, so she can attach their favourite playthings to keep them happily distracted while mums and dads browses the aisles. It has a bottle holders and can be set up in seconds which then packs away neatly into a travel bag. Not only does your Trolleychum protect your baby from bacteria and unwanted germs, it is fashionable too coming in a range of colours and styles. So many women are looking for practical presents and I think this is a thoughtful, beautiful gift for any new mum who needs something she can use AND protects the baby. In at only €23 it's an inexpensive way to be safe and savvy for your baby.
